The couple met within the last two months after the return of the Misses Sartoris from a year's absence in England. The church was beautifully decorated with orange blossoms and banks of lilies and palms. The bride was given away by her mother and was attended by her sister, Miss Rosemary Sartoris, who wore white organdie and lace. Mr. Diaz Albertini attended his nephew as best man. The bride wore a lace dress and a tulle veil, and carried white roses. The eremony and breakfast were attended by all the notables at Coburg and vicinity, many of whom are Washingtonians. The band is made up of twenty-eight musicians and they assemble in a large hall at the barracks each morning in the week, where they practice for one hour. They are permitted, when it does not conflict with their duties, to accept outside engagements. A former soldier in the Philippines named John Calhoun, who lost his mind while in the service, committed suicide in his room at the Government Hospital for the Insance, near Anacostia, at an early hour self with a sheet taken from his bed. His body was found suspended from the iron grating over his window when an attendant made his 10 o'clock trip through the ward in which the unfortunate man was confined. At 12:40 o'clock Calhoun was asleep and forty minutes later his dead body was found. He suffered from meiancholia, and because of his homicidal tendencies he was placed in a room where he could be closely guarded and from which he could not escape. His condition when he returned from the Philippines was of such a character that the physician doubted if he would ever fully recover. The patient had shown signs of hostility toward others and had to restrained a number of times.

STACK BEING REDUCED.

Thirty Feet Removed From Top of Old Power House Chimney.

Over thirty feet of the brick chimney on the site of the new municipal building have already been removed by hand, and the remaining thirty feet to be torn down in that manner will probably be removed by Wednesday afternoon. The rest of the smokestack will then be thrown to the ground by means of dynamite charges placed in holes drilled near the base of the stack. Mr. Harry O. Brown, who has charge of razing the chimney, says he expects to complete his part of the work Thursday afternoon, when about eighty feet of the brickwork will be tumbled over by dynamite.

The work of removing the bricks by hand is necessarily slow, because only two men can work at a time at the top of the stack, and the displaced bricks have to be lowered to the ground in tubs. The last thirty feet of the wo'l will require more time, as the wall nearer the bottom is several inches thicker than it was near the top.

Considerable difficulty was experienced at the beginning of the work in getting laborers who were willing to work at such an altitude, but two men were secured who were not afraid to run the risks connected with the job. The position occupied by the man who works at the bottom of the shaft, emptying the tubs as they are lowered to him, is also one of danger as a carelessly misplaced brick might do considerable damage in falling should it strike some one on the ground,

COL. BIDDLE'S SUGGESTION.

Rearrangement of Electric Lights on Aqueduct Bridge. Col. John Biddle, the Engineer Commissioner, has made the following comment and recommendation on the report of the electrical engineer in regard to a rearrangement of the electric light wires on the Aqueduct bridge: "From this report it is evident that the wires for furnishing power across the Aque-duct bridge are, as far as this department is concerned, owned and controlled by that company, and it is by them that action must be taken. The general arrangement of the wires on the bridge is unsatisfactory and unsafe, necessitating for their repair that the flooring of the bridge should be taken up and thereby weakened, and also being a source of danger, both to the bridge and the workmen painting and repairing it. "Unless the Potomac Electric Power Company has some other proposition to make which would be satisfactory to the Commissioners I recommend that it be required to carry out the order of the Commissioners of August 13, directing changes in the ca-
